Email: mueller-lankow@kronsteyn.law

Hendrik advises financial institutions, asset management companies, corporates and high-net-worth individuals on German and European financial markets law. His work combines precise legal analysis with practical solutions that guide clients safely through their legal challenges.

Hendrik's practice focuses on the design and implementation of complex financial market and fund projects – from developing innovative business, investment and trading models to representing clients before German courts and the General Court of the European Union. He combines the technical excellence clients often expect from large law firms with the agility and personalised service of a specialised boutique firm.
